

1 DELEGATE CHILD: My answer to that, Delegate
2 Fox, is that the Constitutional provision now in the Con-
3 stitution in reference to bill gives the legislature ample
4 authority, and they have already exercised it in 1965,
5 to grant the judicial officer whenever he thinks the 6 circumstances warrant it, the privilege of releasing the 7 man on his own recognizance, which of course is bail,
8 but it is his own recognizance that he will appear, so that 9 you don't need this language to pass.

10 You have ample language under the present
11 Constitutional provision, to pass any statute you want,
12 to make any rule you want in reference to bail.

13 DELEGATE JAMES: Any further questions?

14 Delegate Bamberger.

15 DELEGATE BAMBERGER: I think Delegate Gill had 16 a question.

17 DELEGATE JAMES: Delegate Gill.

18 DELEGATE GILL: Delegate Child, I understood the 19 reasons you gave why you think this section should be 20 stricken from the recommendation except one. You said it
21 would be dangerous. Would you explain that a little more,
